Giant Craft

This one is Huge taken November 21st 1999 (Estimated at about 240 Miles in Diameter)

Traveling 60mph it would take 4 hours to drive across this craft. (I know easy math)

UFO Dream

I don't remember my dreams all that often, but when I do I don't forget them. I had another UFO dream on the night of 7-8-05. I was walking through a town and one zips past me in the sky about 100 feet up in the air. I alert everyone and they start to come out of the pubs and stores. The town was overgrown and dated and stores more simplistic with bars however. .

The UFO must of heard me yell as it stops and its momentum makes it tilt up then it spins back to where we all are and is joined by 2 other craft that are the same looking. These looked like small one man craft and were saucer in shape metallic silver colored, but had 3 spheroids on the bottom of the ships spaced evenly in a triangular fashion that also appeared metallic. It was probably only about 25 feet in diameter and sleek and high tech looking but didn't appear to have windows.

I was also shown the being in the craft. He had skin tone similar to ours. He was bald and he had a thicker bone structure in his face compared to a normal man and it appeared he lacked the muscle in his face to articulate as much as a human can. He was a typical human height as well with the same number of fingers as we have from what I recall in the dream. He was wearing what seemed to be a white glittery full length style robe almost like gem stones. His kind presented themselves and there seemed to be many of them as people gathered around. They started to do NAZI and North Korean style high leg kick marching to get others to laugh just like humans used to do in their armies.

I appeared to make him nervous as he was examining something on my back. I told him I will show him some fireworks by casting fireballs down on them. (I suppose that would do it lol)

Here is a model I made of this one. The most distinct feature of course was the 3 spheres along the bottom in a triangular formation.

Medieval Artwork

This Picture resembles once again a craft at a tilt spraying a beam or something and is comparable to more medieval artwork.

Examine this next picture and note the Ball is very similar it even has that glow effect casting off the top the same way.

This is one taken in the 1963. It's black and white, yet retains the same characteristics as the above in color. Note the spheres within the main one and how the above has that same appearance. It also has that cast off look as the others like its projecting to the side.
